Investigating Group Files Report with United Nations Today.

By The Associated Press
LAKE SUCCESS, June 25—The United Nations Balkan investigation commission's report blaming Yugoslavia primarily for the support of guerrilla warfare in Greece was made public today.

The commission's findings and recommendations, already made known in dispatches from Geneva, were expected to precipitate a showdown between Russia and the western powers in the security council on the perennial Balkan problem.

Covering a three-month inquiry into the Balkan situation, the 330,000 word document was formally submitted to members of the security council last Saturday.

The council was expected to begin a discussion of the report either Friday or early next week. There was speculation that the United States might inject into the debate the Communist assumption of power in Hungary and Communist moves in Bulgaria.

Chief Blame on Slavs
With Russia and Poland dissenting and France abstaining, the Balkan commission fixed upon Yugoslavia the primary blame for support of Greek guerrilla warfare, and held Albania and Bulgaria blameworthy to a lesser degree.

Disturbed political and economic conditions and the persecution of minorities inside Greece were cited in the commission's report as contributing factors to the turbulent Balkan situation.

As a means toward alleviating this situation, the commission recommended that the security council establish a commission or commissioner on the troubled frontier area of Greece for at least two years to observe incidents and settle disputes.

Such a commission or commissioner should, if established, report to the council every three months, and should have access to all areas of Greece, Albania and Bulgaria, the report said.

With Russia and Poland opposed, the commission held also that support of frontier-violating bands should be considered a menace to world peace and subject to U.N. action.

To the majority report that Yugoslavia was the chief offender, the Russian and Polish delegations affixed a minority report asserting that the Greek government was primarily to blame.

Majority Position
The majority held that exploitation of the Macedonian question by violating claims to the territory outside the United Nations is a positive threat to the tranquility of the Balkans and can only add to existing tension and suspicion and increase national passions.

A Greek representative appearing before the commission during the on-the-spot inquiry charged that Bulgarian and Yugoslav interference in Greek internal affairs aimed at incorporating Macedonia into the federal Yugoslav state of Macedonia.

Both Yugoslavia and Bulgaria denied this charge.

France, which abstained from fixing the blame for Greek guerrilla warfare, said in a statement contained in the report that "it is to be feared that in reaching conclusions with insufficient legal foundation we might only aggravate an already critical situation and do unnecessary harm to perfectly natural sentiment."

"Moreover," the French statement added, "the United Nations are faced not only with a critical but with a chronic situation; not with flagrant aggression which requires sanctions and immediate intervention, but with a tension which, owing to a multiplicity of causes, has given rise to a series of incidents, complaints and counter-complaints. Stability can only be reestablished in this part of Europe by hard work and much patience."

Commissioners Proposed
The commission proposed that the security council recommend to the governments of Greece, Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria that they try their utmost to establish normal good neighborly relations, abstain from all action direct or indirect which is likely to increase or maintain the tension and unrest in the border areas, and vigorously refrain from any support, overt or covert, of elements in neighboring countries aiming at the overthrow of the lawful governments of those countries.

The commission also proposed that the security council recommend to the governments concerned that they study the practicability of concluding agreements for the voluntary transfer of minorities.

ROAD OIL WORK
STARTS IN COUNTY

60 Miles To Get Dust, Preventive Treatment.

WALTER W. JOHNSON, Marion county engineer, announced today that the U. S. Construction Co. of Upper Sandusky has been employed and has started applying road oil as a dust preventive on all county stone macadam roads. The oil is to be applied for a distance of approximately 300 feet in front of each home located on the 60 miles of such roads in the county. In all it is expected to take approximately 30,000 gallons of material, and the work probably will be completed within a week.

Mr. Johnson said no roads would be closed, but warned that motorists should slow down before entering the oiled areas since it will take several days for the oil to penetrate and be absorbed. During this time the road will not only be slippery but the oil will be picked up by tires.

Due to material and labor shortages, this is the first road oil treatment of macadam roads since the beginning of World War II.

Mr. Holt said that no appointments have been made to fill the coaching vacancies created by Mr. Howison's transfer from Central and Mr. Somerlot's removal from Edison.

The board approved the plans and specifications prepared by Charles W. Oborn, architect for the remodeling of the Silver Street building and a community room addition. After being advertised for four weeks, bids will be received at the school administration building until twelve noon July 25 and will be opened at 4 p. m. on that day.

Youth Escapes Jail, Leaves Note "He'll Be Back"
Special to The Star
UPPER SANDUSKY, O., June 25—Sixteen-year-old Gene Taylor escaped from Wyandot county jail for the second time in two days last night, but he assured jailers he would be back Thursday.

Taylor left a note on a door stating a "very dear friend" furnished a key by which he escaped and that he would be back Thursday to go to Columbus for examination at the bureau of juvenile delinquency.

The examination was ordered after the first break, June 8.

The youth was arrested by state patrolmen June 11 on the outskirts of Mansfield after eluding patrolmen, officials from the sheriff's office and city police for three days during which time he is alleged to have broken into an upper Sandusky cafe, stealing $100. He is accused of stealing four different automobiles after his first escape from the jail late Saturday night.

Taylor was spotted several times by authorities but he escaped before they could arrest him until word was flashed ahead on Wednesday that he had attempted to register at a Marion hotel then headed toward Mansfield. He eluded patrolmen at Galion and was finally arrested by officers as he entered Mansfield. At the time of his arrest two Marion boys were in the car and one New York-bound hitch hiker. The others were held for questioning then released.

Taylor previously served a year at the Boys Industrial school and was sent to the juvenile research bureau at Columbus. He was the only prisoner in the county jail when he escaped.

LEADER OF CIO
ATTACKS OHIO
VAN AKEN BILL

Tells Herbert Labor Measure Will Cause Great Confusion in State.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., June 25—The secretary-treasurer of the Ohio CIO council today told Gov. Herbert in a hearing that "inadequate definition and confusion of terms" in the Van Aken labor bill would cause "great confusion in Ohio industrial relations."

William Lavelle was the first speaker in a conference of labor and employer representatives and Ohio editors called in by the governor who is trying to decide whether to approve or veto the labor bill enacted recently by the legislature.

The CIO official described the bill as "badly written" and "almost academic."

He attacked the measure paragraph by paragraph, stressing in most cases the alleged inadequacy of definitions and lack of operating machinery.

Referring to the bill's reference to "union representative," Lavelle said a lack of clarifying definitions would cause "constant and continuing stalling by employers refusing to recognize a bargaining agency."

Attacks Boycott Ban
Lavelle attacked the measure's ban on boycotts by declaring such boycotts sometimes were necessary.

"Sometimes employers in their efforts to break a union," he said, "will resort to almost any end."

He asserted the Van Aken bill employed tactics to fill the law will protect you."

The labor leader also blasted the penalties provided for employers' violations of the unfair labor practices provisions of the bill and said employers could set up company unions and face only a $500 fine.

"Pretty cheap, governor, pretty cheap for keeping a bonafide legitimate union out of the plant," Lavelle said, leaning over Governor Herbert's desk.

The hearing in the governor's office, was arranged, Herbert said, to give proponents and opponents of the bill another chance to air their views. Representatives of labor and management were invited.

The governor has only until next Monday to sign or veto the bill preceding the legislature's return for sine die adjournment.

School Aid Bill
Under the Daniels-Cramer bill the state subsidy for schools during the remainder of the present biennium is $150,000,000. The measure also contains a provision that three-fourths of the allotment increases over last year must go to raise teachers' salaries.

Salaries for teachers, it has been estimated, will be boosted by the bill in amounts ranging from $125 to $800 a year.

Late yesterday Herbert also said that he intended to sign the additions and betterments bill, appropriating $1,297,864 in new money and reappropriating $34,000,000 in spent funds from the last biennium.

Herbert said he would not veto any section of the measure since the controlling board must approve all projects before any funds could be spent.

Ohio Public Service Employees
Honored for Safety Record

Two years without a "lost time" accident due to injury is the enviable record of the 215 employees of the Marion Division of the Ohio Public Service Co., and in recognition of this achievement the company was host at a banquet Tuesday night at the Masonic temple.

Covers were placed for approximately 190 employees from Richmond, Delaware, Cardington, Ashley, Mt. Gilead, Crestline, Marion and the Scioto Power plant here, and guests who included executives and members of the staff at the general office in Cleveland.

Dinner music was furnished by Mrs. Goldie Swann, accordionist and Miss Virginia Grover, pianist.

Harold Grigsby, vice president and manager for the Marion division, was toastmaster. The after dinner program opened with a talk by P. E. Medfoss, safety chairman of the Marion division who complimented the employees on the outstanding record, and talks given by several of the guests also paid tribute to the employees.

In the talks it was emphasized that not only was the record an achievement for the workers but also for the company, and because of the carelessness and consideration on the part of all at all times and situations was called to the attention of the employees.

SEN. GEORGE
BACKS TAX CUT

Georgia Solon Throws Support to Vetoed $4,000,000 Reduction Bill.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, June 25—Senator George (D-Ga.) threw his support today behind a Republican move to repeal the vetoed $4,000,000,000 tax slashing bill, revised only to make the cuts effective next Jan. 1 instead of next week.

Chairman Knutson (R-Minn.) of the tax-framing house ways and means committee reintroduced the bill yesterday, and Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) said it will be taken up by the house "at the first favorable opportunity."

Asked if this meant action before congress adjourns in July, Martin replied: "We certainly are not closing the door to that."

Since the tax veto was sustained last Tuesday a lot of Democrats who voted to sustain have come to me and said they were sorry—that they have changed their minds. We are sure we have the two-thirds in the house. It's entirely up to the senate."

To this house Democratic Leader Rayburn (Texas) responded: "The Republicans say they will bring the bill up if they are sure of the two-thirds votes in the house and senate to override another veto. It can't be done—in the house or senate."

An informal poll was under way among senators to determine whether enough support could be corralled.

Sensate lawmakers saw little chance of the measure becoming law this year. They pointed especially to the possibility of a filibuster in the senate if the tax issue is plumped on the senate floor again.

Liquor Board Studies
"Christmas Tree" Appeal

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., June 25—Acting Liquor Director Ralph H. Dombey disclosed today that he was checking whether the state liquor department had any grounds for appealing a court order for the return of the famous 272 cases of "Christmas tree" liquor.

Dombey planned a conference with Charles G. Schnur, assistant attorney general, later in the day.

Common Pleas Judge Dana F. Reynolds granted a mandatory injunction Monday to Christ Manos, Chicago truck driver, from whom the liquor was confiscated last December in Van Wert county.

Manos said the liquor was consigned to Ralph Shue of Mooreville, N.-C., for Christmas sales. It was under bundles of Christmas trees on the back of Manos' truck.

2-DAY STRIKE
CLOSING MILLS

Thousands More Pitt Workers in Demonstration Against Labor Bill.

By The Associated Press
PITTSBURGH, June 25—Thousands more of the nation's coal miners joined pre-vacation walkouts today and the first steel industry curtailments because of the two-day-old fuel stoppage were announced.

Field reports indicated nearly half of the 400,000 bituminous miners were idle, 4,000 of them in Ohio.

Some miners said they walked out protesting adoption of the Taft-Hartley union-curbing bill, while others said the stoppage was merely a "head start" on vacations which start in the coal pits Friday midnight.

An attempt by United Mine workers leaders to start a return to work in West Virginia mines was outdone by new mine closings there. Against 2,000 men returning in Monongalia county, more than 11,500 joined the walkout, raising the state's total of idle to 41,000.

Idle in Pennsylvania
Reports from the coal mines administration and operators listed another 10,000 men idle in western Pennsylvania, raising the total to 51,000 or more than 50 per cent of the soft coal diggers there. In eastern Pennsylvania the first walkouts occurred in anthracite mines, more than 3,200 quitting work in the Pottsville Valley area.

The Carnegie-Illinois steel corporation announced the shutting down of the equivalent of 414 blast furnaces in the Pittsburgh district. A two-thirds curtailment of its Bessemer department at Youngstown, O., was also effected, cutting off production of 1,500 tons of steel daily.

The corporation's parent firm, U. S. Steel Corp., reported all its coal mines in Pennsylvania and Kentucky were closed, causing the loss of about 70,000 tons of coal daily. Other steel firms were similarly hit.

Justice Department Acts
Meanwhile, government officials reported the justice department was investigating the sudden walkout to determine whether an injunction could be slapped on John L. Lewis and his AFL-United Mine Workers.

The Taft-Hartley act which caused the walkouts provides the governing body of a union may seek an injunction to halt national emergency strikes, but the President would be required to appoint a board of inquiry to report to him first.

Effects of the walkout, which started in Alabama shortly after the senate passed the Hartley-Taft labor bill, were sure to be felt soon in the steel, railroad and other coal-using industries.

Steel company stockpiles were low as a result of top production and three previous cost stoppages in the past eight months.

The miners were out in November when UMW Leader John L. Lewis declared the government contract void. In April when Lewis called a mourning period for victims of a Centralia, Ill., mining disaster; and there were stoppages in two states a week ago in protest against the labor bill which was then pending.

Alabama's 20,000 miners were idle with only three of the state's 82 rail-connected mines in operation. A breakdown of reports showed 41,000 idle in Pennsylvania; 31,000 in West Virginia; Kentucky, 30,000; Illinois, 24,700; Virginia, 11,000; Ohio, 8,000; Tennessee, 5,000; Indiana, 3,245, and Utah, 1,200.

Most of the idle were members of the AFL-United Mine Workers although 1,700 members of the Progressive Miners Union (Independent) in Illinois joined the demonstration.

Nearly Half of U. S. Miners Idle in Protest Walkouts
By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, June 25—Walkouts by nearly half of John L. Lewis' soft coal miners today started a justice department investigation and apparently a congressional move to revive expired federal seizure powers.

The prospect that the stoppage to protest the Taft-Hartley labor bill may develop into an industrial shutdown arose as the government prepared to give the miners back to private owners in another five days, when its authority to run the pits lapses.

There was no sign of revived contract talks between Lewis and the operators. The miners traditionally follow a "no contract, no work" policy.

A ten-day mine vacation is due to begin Friday at midnight. The miners receive $100 and can be paid $200 more.

EISENHOWER TO TAKE POST AT COLUMBIA

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, June 25—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who led allied armies to victory in North Africa and Europe, will become president of Columbia university when he is relieved as Army chief of staff, probably early next year.

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, 54, the veterans administrator, was regarded today as Eisenhower's likely successor in the Army's top job.

Eisenhower, 56, also has been elected a member of the university's board of trustees. As president, he succeeds Nicholas Murray Butler, who retired in 1945.

A war department announcement of Eisenhower's plans said he has taken the Columbia post "with the approval of the president of the United States and secretary of war" effective "at such time as his superiors may release him from active duty in the Army."

Bradley has long been mentioned as his apparent successor in the Army's top job.

He directed the Army ground forces in the victorious European campaign when Eisenhower was supreme commander of the allied armies in that theater.

Bradley took over as veterans administrator in August, 1945.

Under congressional act, Eisenhower will continue as a five-star general for life with pay of around $15,000 a year. Columbia is expected to pay him additional compensation running into five figures annually.

COMMITTEE TO ACT ON JONES FOR FCC

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, June 25—The senate interstate committee may act tomorrow on the nomination of Rep. Robert F. Jones (R-Ohio) to be a member of the federal communications commission.

Committee aide told a reporter that Chairman White (R-Me.) wants a vote by the end of the month.

The 40-year-old Ohio lawyer was selected by President Truman to take the place of Ray C. Wakefield of California, whose term on the commission expires on June 30.

Approval of Jones by the committee would send his nomination to the senate for confirmation.

While loath to break long associations in congress, Jones said he is ready to send his resignation to Gov. Thomas J. Herbert and take over his new job.

Jones told a reporter that he regretted leaving congress, even to take a seven-year appointment to the important communications commission at an annual salary of $10,000.

Woman Loses Fight To Recover Money

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., June 25—Mrs. Olive Lindwood today lost her fight in the Ohio supreme court to recover money which she alleged her husband, George A. Lindwood, lost in gambling at Druids park in Greene county, operated by Franklin Grove Lodge No. 2, United Ancient Order of Druids, of Dayton.

The high court declined to review a decision of Greene county court holding that Mrs. Lindwood could not recover.

She claimed her husband had lost $5,165 gambling from March 16, 1944, to Dec. 7, 1944, but sought to recover only $4,285 of the amount plus exemplary damages of $500.

The action was directed against Paul Dennis and others including the sheriff of Greene county and the Druids lodge. The court held that the one year statute of limitations had run before she started the action to recover.

Would Shelve Public Works for Bad Times

Remaining on agitation for and against public works, Cleveland said he believed the country would be better off in the long run if congress forbade any federal construction now save for essential purposes, such as projects needed for health or security or to prevent losses from erosion or deterioration.

According to Your Wishes...

It is so easy to adopt practices that almost become a habit in funeral service. Instead of being a tribute to the individual, such services are very much alike.

That is one thing that Hughes Funeral Service particularly guards against. Aside from things that must be done to comply with laws or health regulations, every funeral is planned according to the wishes of our patrons. It is another proof of serving as we would want to be served.

Sammy Learns To Walk With "Store Legs"

By HAL BOYLE

MARE ISLAND, Calif.—This is an anniversary for Sammy Bradford, who lost his legs on Okinawa before he was old enough to vote. Two years ago today he entered the Navy amputee rehabilitation hospital here to learn how to walk again. He's still in the hospital, and he's still trying to learn how to get around on his new "store legs."

Veterans who lost both legs below the knee can't graduate from the amputee training center until they can stroll away on their artificial underpinning without using a cane. "I guess I won't be quite able to do that," said Sammy. He's what the doctors call "a bilateral A.K. case." That's medical shorthand for a man who has lost both legs above the knee. He has a rougher problem.

Sammy doesn't know for sure just what happened to him. He was 18 years old when he joined the Marines at Smyrna, Ga. He was 19 when he landed on Okinawa, where he fought as a rifleman for 45 days.

"I was going up Sugar Loaf hill one morning," he said. "You remember Sugar Loaf hill? I guess everybody remembers that one. All of a sudden I went down. I don't know whether I stepped on a mine or a mortar got me. Everything was hazy and I hurt all over. I guess I'll never know."

Second Leg Removed

But his right leg was gone, and six days later Navy doctors had to take off the shattered left limb.

The bones became infected. He had to undergo four more operations. Healing was slow as the months went by. But Sammy still retained the tough-minded attitude the Marine Corps instills in its young men. He never gave way to self-pity. To pass the time he fixed up a shop with another amputee and they began repairing the hospital wheel chairs.

"I used to do bicycle repairing back in Smyrna," Sammy said. "I don't know whether I want to take up that again when I leave here or become an auto mechanic."

When the bone infection cleared up, Sammy had only four-inch stumps left.

"They were so short they came right out of the buckets when I tried to walk," he said. The "buckets" are the apertures of artificial legs into which the stumps fit.

"With stumps as short as yours every inch counts," said a navy doctor.

Sammy Agrees

"They sure do," agreed Sammy. He looked ruefully down at the denim pants trailing away in limp emptiness from his muscular young torso.

But the amputee center later developed a suction type "bucket" and Sammy has had better luck with artificial legs equipped with it.

"I've been practicing with the new suction buckets since last March," he said. "I can drive a car and I'm walking a lot better. I practice an hour every morning and an hour and a half in the evening."

"I can walk ten feet between the parallel bars without holding on. The longest I've had my legs on lately is three hours. I have to be able to keep them on eight hours before I leave."

He also will have to show he can get up if he falls, climb up

dent, in charge. The meeting was called to see moving pictures on "How To Save Steps" and the use of water and electricity on the farm. The pictures were presented by H. H. Harrick and Kenneth Schott of Hucyrus. The hosts were assisted in serving refreshments by their mother, Mrs. Warren Reece. The next meeting will be July 2 at the home of Tommy Sickle.

C. & O. TO GET NEW TURBINE LOCOMOTIVE

By The Associated Press
CLEVELAND, June 23 — The Chesapeake & Ohio railway has announced that the world's largest passenger locomotive, a revolutionary type which converts coal into electrical energy—will be delivered to the line in August.

The locomotive No. 300, the first steam turbine-electric engine ever built, is on public exhibition for the first time at the Association of American Railroads Convention in Atlantic City.

The locomotive is one of three 6,000-horsepower, prime movers designed to pull the C. & O.'s two fast trains in daylight service between Cincinnati and Washington.

President Robert J. Bowman said the locomotive, which have a top speed of 100 miles an hour, will make the run in 11 hours and 45 minutes to clip nearly 10 hours off the fastest present schedule.

The steam turbine-electric locomotive is constructed as a single unit 90½ feet long with a 29¼ ton coal compartment housed in the nose. Coal is stoked automatically into a 310-pound pressure boiler, which generates steam that is superheated and fed into the 6,000-horsepower turbine.

Another feature of the streamlined locomotive is the brake system, which is both air and electrically operated so that it is applied on all cars instantly.

K. of C. Make Plans For Annual Outing

Plans to attend the annual outing to be held at Cedar Point Aug. 8-10 inclusive were discussed Tuesday night at a meeting of Marion Council No. 671, Knights of Columbus. Larry A. was named chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements. Robert McAllister, manager of the K. of C. softball team, announced that games had been scheduled with other council teams including Titin, Upper Sandusky and Lima. He also stated the Marion team would be entered in the Cedar Point tournament.

Installation of newly elected officers, headed by Floyd Cornely, grand knight, will be held July 8. Tentative plans were discussed to purchase a plaque in honor of members who were killed in World War II.

Expert Tells Why Women Are More Like Children

By The Associated Press
CINCINNATI, June 23 — Women are biologically more children than men "in almost every way that can be listed," Dr. Paul Popenoe of Los Angeles, director of the American Institute of Family Relations, said Tuesday.

"They are more childlike in bodily proportions, in skin, muscles, rate of heartbeat and body temperature, pitch of voice and resistance to disease," he asserted in an address at the University of Cincinnati's summer session institute on education for family life.

It is therefore natural, he said, that women should attach importance to youthfulness and added: "But they should not remain childish or adolescent in their emotional make-up and their mental outlook."

Man's greater aggressiveness is the most marked difference in the behavior of American men and women, he said, explaining "this has been necessary to enable him to win a mate, to support and protect her after winning her."

He said "a second striking trait of the male is his egotism . . . which often contrasts with a widespread inferiority among American women."

"Broadly speaking, a man is always satisfied with himself; a woman is never satisfied with herself."

COAL OUTLOOK SEEN 9 From Here Going AS THREAT TO STEEL

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, June 23 — Coal continues to throw a menacing shadow over the nation's steel business, Iron Age, national metalworking weekly, said today.

Walkouts at steel company "captive" mines this week, in advance of the miners' vacation period, the publication said, will cut the steel industry's coal supplies to a "dangerously low" point. While many steel plants have been able to build up some coal supplies, their high operating rates have been a constant drain on such stocks.

A soft coal strike, the publication pointed out, "would force a large segment of the industry to take precautionary plans and sharply cut back steel production to conserve supplies."

This week's steel ingot output is at 96 per cent of rated capacity, off one-half a point from last week, according to Iron Age.

Sponsors of the Taft-Hartley legislation have informed Iron Age, the weekly said, that the steel companies and the union must reopen their contracts—which they thought would run for two years—before July 1, 1948 to make new agreements on the check-off and union shop provisions.

9 From Here Going To Kiwanis Meeting

A delegation of nine from the Marion Kiwanis club will leave this weekend to attend the thirty-second annual convention of Kiwanis International which will open Sunday evening, June 23, in Chicago.

They are E. L. Cleveland, president of the Marion club and Mrs. Cleveland, U. A. Nystrom, vice president of the local club and Mrs. Nystrom, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. O'Connell, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Miller and Dr. Fred E. Stengel.

Some 10,000 persons are expected to attend the five days' meeting, including business and professional leaders from all sections of the United States, Canada, Alaska and Hawaii. The convention will be based on the service organization's administrative theme for this year, "Build for Peace—Patriotism—Opportunity."

The program will feature addresses by outstanding figures in American and Canadian public life, election of officers, club activity conferences and entertainment. Special features have been planned for wives of Kiwanians in attendance.

Mrs. Fred Upton was in charge of devotions and prayer was offered by Mrs. Mary Kates. During the business session members voted to contribute $20 to the coal fund and also to contribute to and send a layette to Greece. Tuesday night's meeting was the final one until September. The program included several selections by a quartet composed of Mrs. H. C. Wendler, Mrs. Charles Clark, Mrs. Vernon Her and Mrs. J. M. Edington and songs by Miss Judith Nash. Contest awards went to Mrs. P. D. Robinson and Mrs. William Maten. Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by the following committee: Mrs. L. A. Snedeker, Mrs. R. D. Phillips, Mrs. C. P. What New Labor Law Means To Non-Union Job Hunters

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, June 25—What does the new labor law mean to you if you're not a member of a union but are looking for a job? Nothing at all, of course, if you get a job where there is no union. But suppose there is a union where you go job-hunting. What then? That depends upon the kind of contract the boss there has with a union.

There is a thing called "preferential hiring."

That's where a boss can hire non-union men but must give first choice to a union man, if one is available.

Most lawyers think the new law forbids this. They're not positive. So the subject of preferential hiring may have to be fought out in court.

For the time being, therefore, if you look for a job where there's "preferential hiring," the union man probably will get the job ahead of you.

Union Shop

Suppose you look for a job where there is a union shop. In a union shop the boss can hire non-union men but they must join the union after working there a certain time.

Once you get a job in a union shop and join the union, you must stay in it. If you quit the union, the boss has to fire you.

But suppose the union expels you, perhaps through someone's grudge or because you made trouble in the union.

Under the new law the boss doesn't have to fire you if you're expelled from a union for any cause except failing to pay your dues.

(Until now the boss had to fire you if you were expelled from a union in a union shop for any reason.)

But the new law has something else to say about union shops. There can be no union shop at all unless a majority of all the workers in the shop—not just those present at voting time—vote for it.

Until now if a minority of the workers were present at voting time, a majority of the minority could vote for a union shop and get it.

Suppose you go looking for work where there is a closed shop. In a closed shop not only must all the workers there be union members but any new worker must be a union member before he's hired.

There are many closed shops now. And the new law permits closed shop contracts now in existence to continue until they expire.

The new law went into effect Tuesday, June 23. Under that law employers can sign closed shop agreements with unions between June 23 and Aug. 22, or 90 days after the law went into effect.

But any contract signed between now and Aug. 22 can't continue longer than one year. Then, in that plant, as in all others, a closed shop is outlawed.

So, if you go looking now for a job in a place where there is a closed shop, you can't get a job right now unless you're a union member.

Suppose you're working in a plant where you are a union member and the boss deducts your union dues from your paycheck and turns them over to the union.

This arrangement—it's part of a contract between some bosses and

Infection of Feet

Many skin disorders are caused by germs but perhaps the most stubborn of all such troubles is due to another cause entirely. A parasitic fungus or sort of vegetable growth. One of these which causes endless annoyance to many people every year is ringworm, particularly ringworm infection of the feet.

Dr. Douglas T. Frahm, of Chelsea, Mass., has perfected a mixture of salicylic acid, menthol and camphor, which he thinks is quite effective in getting rid of these fungous infections of the skin. These three substances are mixed together and put into solution. The solution can be put into a powder, a liquid preparation, or an ointment.

For the general treatment of ringworm or fungous infections, he thinks the powder is most satisfactory.

The powder usually is made up of boric acid, thoroughly mixed with talc. This boric acid-talc mixture is then vigorously mixed into the solution of camphor, menthol and salicylic acid. The net result is a fine, sticky powder which is pasty and soft. The powder cannot be dust upon the skin but must be vigorously rubbed into it.

In treating ringworm of the feet, thick calluses or blisters must be removed before the powder is applied. The skin must be thoroughly dry before the powder is vigorously rubbed into the diseased and surrounding skin areas. The treatment is applied in the morning, daily or oftener as the case may be, depending upon the progress of the condition. As the condition improves, the intervals between the treatment may be increased until the disorder has been completely overcome.

Dr. Frahm has also treated 86 patients with itching around the lower opening of the bowel, with this mixture. If some smarting occurs on the first application, the powder can be diluted by adding more talc.

Dr. Frahm thinks that if a skin disturbance does not clear up un-

Does Stomach Gas and Bloat Make You Feel Miserable?

If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in freeing your stomach from this nervous distress. It works this way: Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; also the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, nervous, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that 888 Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the 888 Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, 888 Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overindulgence of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so clearly need is 888 Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people 888 Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of 888 Tonic from your drug store today. 888 Tonic helps build sturdy health.

Whose Unions Are They?

UNION executives are following a course that could destroy the American labor movement.
They are placing themselves above the law and identifying their organizations with an arrogant attitude that is trying public patience to the breaking point.

Their call for open warfare on the new law defining the rights of organized labor is defiance of federal authority. Strikes already have begun.
A planned assault on the law at every point is threatened. William Green speaks of "widespread warfare." John Lewis does not object to members of his union breaking their contract.
There is angry talk of irreconcilability, calculated to spread disrespect for the law among rank-and-file unionists.

Have the union bosses thought through the consequences of this kind of thing? Are they acting in the best interests of their unions, or are they being carried away by the credo that laws are for the other people in this country;
that the Caesar Petrillos, Joe Fays and James Boves are a law unto themselves?

Labor unions were done great injury when their spokesmen refused to cooperate with the congressional committees that prepared drafts of legislation defining organized labor's rights.
They were done great injury when their spokesmen tried to panic congress—as they succeeded in panicking Harry Truman—into surrender.
They are being done great injury now by the impression that union bosses are willing to lead a civil rebellion against all laws defining union rights.

There can be no successful unionism in this republic without public support and sympathy.
The union executives are appealing for support and sympathy in a curious way, if that's what they have in mind. If it isn't what they have in mind, their followers had better demand an accounting.

A Close One

THE United States has come close to turning down majority rule to suit the whim of a crowd of professional politicians.

The senate vote to override the presidential veto of the Taft-Hartley bill prevented, by the margin of a few votes, a miscarriage of government that would have been a national catastrophe.

Eighty per cent of the house of representatives had approved the bill and overridden the presidential veto. About 75 per cent of the senate had approved the bill. Yet, because of one man's decision to be a politician instead of Chief Executive of the United States, all this could be set aside unless the senate mustered more than two-thirds to override his veto. Luckily, this was done. Majority rule still is in effect.

This issue—far more important than the actual terms of the new law to restrain union bosses—has taken Harry Truman's measurement in the White House. It has shown that he is precisely what his critics have insisted he is—a small man in a big job.

There had been some recent signs he was trying to rise above his limitations, but these must be discounted. Unless signs to the contrary are forthcoming, it must be assumed Mr. Truman has decided to string along with advisers who are more afraid of Henry Wallace than they are afraid of what might happen to the United States.

In other words, Mr. Truman is going to out-Wallace Wallace in a bid for the votes Wallace might pull away from him if he bolted the Democratic ticket next year. We think other voters will know what to do about this. As a matter of fact, it may help to clear the air if the electorate can get the issue defined so clearly there will be no more confusion about Democrats and Wallace New Dealers. Harry Truman had almost begun to look like a Democrat in spots, but now he has cast his lot with the Wallace New Dealers.

It will be a miracle if he manages to please his new companions. In the meantime, he has no further claim on the sympathy of those who have questioned since 1935 the divine right of a few union bosses to run the country into the ground, if that suits them. The new union-curbing law won't be perfect, but it will give the labor monopolists as much to think about as the business monopolists had to think about after the Sherman act.

Mr. Truman also has lost the support of several million involuntary union members fed up with their role. He has opened a quarrel with congress, whose cooperation he needed. If this is smart politics, it has a lot of the President's countrymen fooled. From where they stand, it looks pretty stupid.

News Behind the News

Truman Now Running on Union Ticket.

WASHINGTON, June 25—You need never read the union reform bill statements and the veto in retrospective search for an objective viewpoint on the issue.
All-inclusive explanation behind the post-veto gung-ho is simply this:

Truman is running for re-election on the union's ticket.

The leading Republican candidate, Gov. Dewey, contrived the more moderate final form of the legislation, the lives compromises,
he will run on that ticket.

In such a taut political situation, objectivity has been rather thoroughly abandoned. Indeed this tactless has injured the chances of the legislation to work out satisfactorily in handling the unions' problem from a public standpoint.

Truman did not merely veto. He went much further. He created an administration theory that the bill would not work out, would cause strikes, promote union rebellion and disorder. He cleared the way for these possibilities. One of the few philosophically minded senators said after reading the veto message:

"If the unions inspired the extreme Truman approach, they are getting ready for resistance activity to make the law unworkable. They may not give it a chance, but may obstruct it as much as they can."

Challenge in Greek Turmoil

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

WASHINGTON, June 25—There has been a general tendency to assume that with the passage of the Greek aid bill, the Greek crisis has been surmounted. In fact, American policy makers are increasingly disturbed by the rapid political deterioration in that key country.

Mark F. Ethridge, able chief of the American delegation to the United Nations Balkan commission; recently reported directly to Secretary of State George C. Marshall on the Greek situation. Marshall began the detailed conversation between the two men by asking flatly what were the chances of success for the American effort in Greece. Ethridge is understood to have replied somewhat bleakly that he judged the American program would have about a 55 per cent chance of success.

This somber estimate of the slim odds in favor of one of the most critical aspects of American foreign policy is borne out by other reports from Greece. The Communist-controlled guerrillas have intensified their drive since the American decision to intervene in Greece was taken. The efforts of the unreliable Greek army to contain the guerrillas have been singularly unsuccessful. Intelligence reports now indicate that the guerrillas control a full third of the total Greek territory, including the whole mountain range which cuts down like a knife between the main Greek cities, Athens and Salonika.

Trouble Area?

There is real alarm in the state department that this area may soon be further extended in accordance with a planned, Soviet-backed offensive. For, given determined support from the Soviet satellites to the north, there is good reason to believe that the guerrillas might well succeed in investing Salonika. There is no

Wasted Vigilance

ROCKFORD, Ill.—A telephone

the actual course of the law will depend much on administration of
it. That an unsympathetic Truman is in charge of the conciliation service and enforcement board has caused some Republicans to discuss methods of taking the administration out of his hands and awarding it to authorities who believe it could be made to work.

The White House, of course, has let out no information to confirm the natural suspicion arising from similarities between the CIO and legal arguments (Pressman) and the claims of the message (see Taft). The dope was passed around the Democratic side that Schwellenbach (labor secretary), Steelman (labor as well as economic adviser), and Herzog (National Labor Relations Board), largely contrived the message, but that the President "heard all factions." If he heard them all, he listened to only one side. In the 6,000 words of his message there was not a single word favorable to any point in the bill. Every point is bad, even the one trying to aid the unions in ridding themselves of Communist officials.

No one will contend the message was written by plain trustees.
It displays no effort to create any new catch phrases of well-reasoned arguments. It is a professional partisan. In style it is a routine accumulation of adjectives which had been soiled by common usage in the congressional debate, both in the committees and on the floors such terms as: "impossible,"
"dangerous," "unworkable," "bitter," "disappointing," "ineffective," and in fact just about all the derogatory adjectives a small dictionary contains, except an inclusive one which may eventually reach the dictionaries; "lousy."

Late Rumor

The usual flurry of excitement was created in advance of the veto with a rumor which ran through congress. The report was spread that all members of the Truman cabinet except Schwellenbach had recommended Truman sign the bill.

It was said in this connection (will be much with I do not know) that a reluctant approval by Truman would be similar politics. Then he would have kept the unions on his side (showing himself more pro-union than Dewey) and at the same time, might thus have solved his own inability to handle unions while putting responsibility for their troubles on the Republicans. That might have been the way Roosevelt would have handled it.

But as Truman chose the straightforward union way to complete opposition, the fight over union reforms seems to have just begun.

There is of course little hope that the Soviets will vote for the Ethridge plan, yet if they abstain from voting, the inference can then be fairly drawn that they have at least temporarily resigned themselves to the loss of Greece
as a Soviet province. In that case, Griswold can get on with his immensely difficult job, with at least a reasonable chance of ultimate success.

On the other hand, if the So-

will be taken to mean an all-out, ruthless drive to aid Greece to the Soviet Balkan empire, by means of the Greek guerrillas, supported by the Soviet satellites. There is thought to be a feeling that the Soviets will obtain when the Balkan commission report comes must certainly be clear to the So-veto—open political warfare be-

United States in Greece—involves terrible dangers. Yet it may be that the rulers in the Kremlin will decide that the game is worth the candle.

OUR SHRINKING TIMES

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Friday, June 25, 1937.
Preparations for the expected arrival within the next few days of Miss Amelia Earhart and her globe-girdling plane got under way on Howland Island, tiny coral Pacific ocean islet, 1,532 miles southwest of Honolulu. The hop from Lae, New Guinea, to Howland island, 2,556 miles, was the longest of the entire flight and the naval tug Ontario was standing by at sea.

Supplies of homegrown produce in the city were expected to be considerably curtailed by heavy rains, local dealers were quoted as saying. Many fields of melons, potatoes, berries and the like were under water and crops were beyond salvage. Homegrown gooseberries were among the newer articles on market and were quoted at reasonable prices.

Ben W. Wiant of South Grand avenue and Harold Callahan of Leader street were to sail at midnight from New York City aboard
the S. S. Volendam of the Holland-American line for a month in France. They were among the 36 young men from DeMolay chapters throughout the country making a pilgrimage to Molay, France.

Twelve of the 14 chapter members of the Woman's Missionary society of Emanuel Lutheran church were present when the society observed its twenty-first anniversary. In the group were Mrs.

Mrs. Herman Jacobs, Mrs. Frank

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, June 25, 1927.
A program designed to eliminate dangerous grade crossings in and about Marion was considered by Grover C. Snyder, division engineer of the state highway department in conjunction with the county board of commissioners.

Miss Juanita Almdendinger of Waldo sailed from Montreal on the S. S. Asconia for a 10 weeks' cruise to Europe.

Notices to clean up old cornfields were served on 75 Marion county farmers in the corn border eradication campaign conducted by the U. S. department of agriculture.

A number of Marion Ku Klux Klansmen were expected to be among the crowd of 50,000 to gather in Columbus for a midwest convulse. An eight-mile parade was to precede the meeting, which was to be addressed by Hiram W. Evans, imperial wizard.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Colonel Kester of 492 South
Greenwood street.

A stone-crushing plant costing $150,000 was placed in operation at the quarry of the Ohio
Blue Limestone Co. north of Marion.

Mrs. Emil Sweney of 635 Pearl

Transport for U. S. Wheat

By CLARKE BEACH

WASHINGTON—On an obscure Santa Fe railroad siding in Hamlin, Tex., sweating farm hands on May 28 loaded the nation's first car of the new winter wheat crop.

It was the starting trickle which may grow into a disastrous flood in the months to come. Moving the wheat crop is always the railroads' greatest single transport problem, and this year it will be the toughest they have ever encountered.

Despite the chronic shortage of box cars, the roads will have to move more wheat than one nation ever before grew in the history of the world, and they will probably have to move it a longer distance, since much of it is to be exported.
The long haul to seaports uses up more box cars than short domestic shipments.

Record Crop

The agriculture department estimates that the wheat crop will total 1,409,000,000 bushels, which is 254,000,000 more than last year's record crop.

It will come chiefly from Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Nebraska and Colorado. The flood of grain, starting in Texas, will sweep northward month after month until it begins to pour out of Canada in September.

Remembering the considerable spoils of wheat which the railroads could not move last year, farmers are apprehensive. But spokesmen for the Association of American Railroads are confident the job can be done without losing any large amount of wheat for lack of transportation.

F. G. Gurley, president of the Santa Fe, which will carry much of the load, says he is confident the job will be done to nearly everybody's satisfaction, but he admits he expects to see "grain being stored on the ground in the wheat belt this crop year."

Testifying before a congressional group, Gurley added, "Naturally it shouldn't stay there too long,
but the mere fact that it is stored
on the ground is not within itself evidence of either a national or local calamity."

Freight Volume Up

On the dark side of the picture are the freight loadings, which have been 13.3 per cent heavier this year than last—even before the wheat harvest began; and the export freight volume, which in April was 33 per cent above that of April, 1946.

The exportation of grain alone
in April was 190 per cent above

April, 1946. This figure is ominous, for railroad men say the amount of grain which they must haul to the dock side is the key to the problem.

On the bright side is the fact that grain elevators are not as overloaded as they were last year, thus providing space in which grain can be quickly unloaded.
Also the roads have been able to store about 1,100 box cars in the wheat areas in anticipation of the rush; but this is not too impressive, when one considers that the Santa Fe alone had 17,595 cars stored in advance of the harvest in 1931.

Speedup Sought

The Association of American Railroads bases its main hopes on the system of handling box cars which it perfected during the war
—never letting a car stand idle longer than necessary, rushing cars to places where they are needed even though freight revenues are thereby diminished, loading more heavily than in normal times, increasing the average speed of movement of freight trains, building more efficient type of cars.

So successful have the railroad men been in improving the efficiency of their freight handling that although between 1918 and 1946 the number of freight cars was reduced almost 25 per cent,
they increased the revenue ton miles of freight moved nearly 50 per cent.

Fewer Cars

The box car shortage is, of course, the fundamental difficulty, as it has been for the past seven or eight years. When war production began to multiply the railroads' burden, they procured a substantial number of new cars.
But during the war years the new car supply dwindled for lack of materials.

Old cars were kept in service long after they would normally have been retired. The result is that in the past 20 months cars that had to be retired much faster than they could be replaced.

The roads now have 100,000 cars on order, but are getting them at the rate of only 3,000 a month.
They have been promised 10,000
a month by mid-summer; and this may prove their salvation.

world by taking the hands off the dashboard clock, thus admitting that no automobile clock means anything, anyhow.

One of my scouts says you are going to be the first man to apply the safety razor blade idea to fenders, making it possible to eject a damaged fender and insert a fresh one whenever the old fender gets dented up. I'm for that and I like it better than the talk of rubber fenders all around.

I also hear that your engineers have perfected a body with a bellows center so that it can be folded up and placed against a building instead of parked at full length in traffic centers. That is something I have been suggesting for years.
Nothing beats it except my idea that all auto makers turn out identical cars in every detail, which would make it possible for anybody to park his car anywhere in the morning and take any other car anywhere and drive home at night.
As all cars would look alike, what difference would it make whether you got the same one you came to town in?

I have heard a report that you are going to turn out a car with the radiator in the rear, an idea that would tend to confuse the car behind and make the driver slow up a little. It would also make a Ford driver proceed more cautiously, as he would be under the impression he was backing up.

But, as I say, I am in the dark pretty much and wish you would come out with the thrilling details. For one thing, I hope you are going to put the battery on top of the car where people can find it easily. No builder seems to have thought of this.

Ball Grounds Lease Bids To Be Opened

The City Park Commission Will Meet Tonight in the Office of City Solicitor Edwin B. Spohn, to open bids for the lease of the Lincoln park ball grounds. The lease now held by the Marion Baseball company expires on June 30, 1947.

The city park commission will meet tonight in the office of City Solicitor Edwin B. Spohn, to open bids for the lease of the Lincoln park ball grounds. The lease now held by the Marion Baseball company expires on June 30, 1947.

As the baseball club is planning more permanent improvements on the field officials of the club have requested a 10-year extension of the contract. Improvements totaling $21,000 have been added to the park since the lease was granted in 1944. W. Dexter Hazen, baseball club president, said.

The park commission composed of Robert T. Mason, Leonard Young and Henry Drake, plans to open the bids tonight, but a decision is not expected for several days. Commissioner Drake said.

Two bids for use of the park have been submitted to the commission. Spohn said. The other bid besides the one from the baseball club comes from the Marion Semi-Pro Football club. The football club plans to operate a team in the newly organized Inter-State Semi-Pro Football league.

Voice of America Fund Now Up to Conference

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Senate-house conferees apparently will have to reach an agreement within five days on legislation authorizing the state department's foreign information and educational exchange program.

This includes the "Voice of America" broadcasts in Russian and other languages.

The house voted 272 to 97 yesterday to give legal sanction to the program, which is scheduled to expire June 30. A few hours earlier the senate appropriations committee approved an $11,500,000 fund to continue the program after July 1.

G.O.P. PRESSES FOR HIGHER MINIMUM PAY

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Republican congressional leaders under sharp attack from organized labor because of the new Taft-Hartley law—will push for speedy enactment of a 50 per cent minimum wage boost.

Headings on bills to raise the current pay floor from 40 cents an hour will be started Friday by a house labor subcommittee, with indications that a 50-cent minimum will be recommended.

Although few, if any, union members would benefit directly from a minimum wage hike, organized labor has plumped for it and President Truman has advocated a boost to as high as 75 cents an hour.

The Landis bill provides for a flat 20-cent increase, or 50 per cent above the present floor. Landis said it would effect primarily an estimated 1,500,000 low paid workers who are not organized.

The proposed new wage floor would apply only to workers in interstate commerce and to those whose labor is transformed into products entering commerce. It would not apply to most farm workers and may be changed to exclude employees of small newspapers and small telephone exchanges.

Happy Marriage Needs More Than Mere Romance

CINCINNATI, June 25.—A happy marriage needs a "more solid foundation than mere romantic feelings," the University of Cincinnati's summer session social hygiene institute was told today.

An institute speaker, Dr. Paul Popenoe of Los Angeles, director of the American Institute of Family Relations, said:

"If love is thought of as a mere sensation, like a ride on a roller coaster, it cannot be handled intelligently.

"There are as many kinds of love as there are different people, and there is a different kind of love for each succeeding age, since the love of a mother for her child is not the same as that of the woman for her husband."

"Whether it is called love or not," Dr. Popenoe said, the basis of successful marriage might be called the primary sex complex consisting of five elements:

1. The biological mating impulse.
2. The economic interests of man and woman that result from the division of labor that grows out of woman's specialization for childbearing.
3. Sexually colored comradeship. This Dr. Popenoe explained as "the tenderness and affection, the emotional security, which is found in the finest relation of the two sexes."
4. Non-sexual companionship.
5. Mutual interest in the home and children.

off from June 27 to July 7 without being on strike.

The number of those who had jumped the gun stood at 175,000 last night.

Government officials disclosed the justice department is seeking to determine whether the miners went out of their own free choice or whether they had some sort of leadership.

Both in the justice department and congress, however, the feeling seemed general that the Taft-Hartley law would be inadequate to halt a coal shutdown at this time.

But for the next five days the government can act quickly and without outside aid.

That is because (A) the government still is in control of the mines and (B) the supreme court left the way open for another federal injunction against Lewis and the union if a strike occurs while the government contract is in effect.

Rep. Howard Smith (D-Va.), one of the sponsors of the Smith-Connelly war labor disputes act which gave President Truman his power to seize the mines, introduced legislation yesterday to extend that authority beyond June 30.

But Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) told reporters he saw no signs the house would go along with Smith.

Ohio Coal Production Is Cut by One-Sixth

BELLAIRE, O., June 25.—More than 10,000 miners—most of them protesting against enactment of the Taft-Hartley labor bill—were idle in Ohio today and coal production had dwindled to a trickle.

In the eastern Ohio field 16 major mines were closed. All major producers in the Hocking Valley field around Athens were shut down.

The number of miners idle in the eastern Ohio field totaled more than 6,000, while more than 4,000 were off the job in the Hocking field.

College Enrollments To Stay High, O. S. U. Dean Predicts

No Return to Pre-War Levels Likely, Park Tells Marion Audience.

Prediction that enrollments of American colleges, swollen to record high figures since the end of World War II, will never go back to their pre-war totals, was made by an Ohio State university executive in a talk before the Marion Rotary club Tuesday.

The speaker was Joseph A. Park, dean of men at O.S.U. in his talk to the Rotarians and guests in the club's weekly luncheon meeting at Hotel Harding, he took as his subject, "The Changing Campus Scene."

He spoke regarding the unprecedented problems which have confronted O.S.U. and other large colleges with the sudden growth of enrollment following the war and told how the emergency has been met. Taking O.S.U. by way of illustration, he said enrollment reached approximately 25,000 during the last college year and will equal that or possibly go higher next year. Because a large percentage of the new students are former service men, the average age has increased from the pre-war 19 years to 22 years. The former service men, he said, are raising better in their college work than the non-veterans, probably due largely to the fact that they are older.

Probable Leveling Off

The post-war enrollment "bulge," Dean Park expects will end in about four years and the figure then probably will be between 18,000 and 20,000. But he sees no likelihood of much additional decrease at O.S.U. or other colleges. He bases this prediction on the realization that the need and desire for higher education and training have become greater.

"Business and industry are looking for college trained men and will continue to do so in an increasing degree during the years ahead," he said.

He told of plans for new buildings and improved facilities at O.S.U. and said much work along this line is expected within the next two years. This is essential, he said, because of the extreme age of some of the buildings, the inadequate equipment, and the urgent needs brought about by the fact that the present college plant, designed for an enrollment of 10,000, is now housing 25,000. He spoke in particular of plans for a new medical center, for which $8,000,000 has been appropriated.

Named Dean in 1929

Mr. Park has the distinction of being the only dean of men Ohio State university has ever had. A native of Cleveland, he enrolled as a student at O.S.U. in 1914 and after serving in World War I returned to the college and was graduated in 1920. As a student he was interested in Y.M.C.A. work and after graduation was secretary of the university "Y" for seven years. In 1929 he was named dean of men at the college.

Dean Park was introduced to his Rotary audience by Earl N. Hale, secretary of the Marion Y.M.C.A.

Birthday Group Honored

Preceding the luncheon address, the club honored members whose birthdays came in April, May and June. All were seated at a special table and were introduced by E. E. Holt, past president of the club. Those honored and the months of their births were:

April: Carl Knirk, Rev. H. L. Olewiler, Dr. D. W. Brickley, Jr., Ben Wiant, Claybourne Smoot, Homer Huffman, Clare Williams, Dr. E. L. Brady, James Frew, R. T. Lewis, Charles Sherer, Hale Clark, Don Howard.

May: Henry Mickle, Wendell Wiant, Hoover Brown, John Turner Jr., Dr. Carl W. Sawyer.

June: Ray Sutton, Clarence Brown, Jerry Gerard, George Plank, J. W. Liewellyn, William Hamor, Dr. Ralph Burton, Merle Hughes, Hugh Webster.

Henry Mickle, club president, presided following his return from attending the Rotary International convention in San Francisco. This was the final meeting of his administration as club president. At the next meeting he will be succeeded by Frank Foster.

Guests of the club in addition to the speaker, Dean Park, were Hugh Conwell of Piqua, Ralph Howard of Columbus, E. J. Craig of Longview, Wash. and M. E. Mohr of Ventura, Calif.

REPORT MADE ON CITY PLAYGROUND

Average 75 Children Daily in Each Area.

Attendance at each of the four Marion playgrounds last week averaged approximately 75 boys and girls a day, according to a report from Joseph Petrich, supervisor of the playgrounds and director of Lincoln park playground.

An accurate count wasn't made, he said, since the first few days of the summer vacation provided the various recreational activities at the grounds. Activities are planned for include softball, croquet, horseshoe pitching, badminton, tennis and basketball and other games.

The goal of the Marion Recreation commission is to have a successful playground season but this can't be accomplished, Mr. Petrich said, unless parents of children see that they attend the playgrounds where they can be under the supervision of the individual director. The directors will be at the playgrounds located at Lincoln, McKinley and Garfield parks and at the Silver Street school for the next 11 weeks.

OHIO CROP REPORT IS BRIGHTER TODAY

COLUMBUS, O., June 25.—For the first time in three months Ohio had a good crop report today.

The official report of the U. S. weather bureau here said that during a week that was cool but almost rainless, large acreages of corn, tomatoes, soybeans and sugar beets were planted.

Between two-thirds and three-fourths of the corn crop now is in the ground in northern Ohio, while nine-tenths has been planted in the middle section, and some southern counties have planted their limits, the report said.

In the Columbus vicinity, some corn now is about 20 inches high, and many fields, just planted, have corn much over a foot high, said the report prepared by Meteorologist George Stindling and U. S. Agricultural Statistician Glenn S. Ray.

The last rain of any importance on Ohio occurred about June 17, and most stations in southern Ohio had no rain after June 13, the observers said.

Marion, Wyandot In Top Soybean List

Marion and Wyandot counties are among 13 Ohio counties listed with the 100 leading soybean-growing counties in the United States, according to word received from the department of agriculture in Washington. Figures were gathered in the 1945 census of agriculture conducted by the bureau of the census. Production records covered the 1944 growing season. Marion county placed eighth with 650,737 bushels, and Wyandot county was seventh with 667,218 bushels.

According to the report, the 13 Ohio counties listed produced 10,750,916 during 1944, about half of Ohio's 21,564,129 bushel yield and six per cent of the nation's 187,725,831 bushel harvest.

Other Ohio counties and their ranks among the first 100 counties are: Wood, 21; Van Wert, 31; Putnam, 34; Paulding, 36; Hancock, 42; Henry, 76; Seneca, 80; Sandusky, 84; Mercer, 87, and Allen, 95.

Former Lima Youth Sentenced to Prison

CHICAGO, June 25.—Edward J. Kelliher, formerly of Lima, O., was sentenced yesterday to three to six years in the Illinois State penitentiary following conviction on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

Kelliher, 34, was arrested on June 11, when the alleged attack upon Miss Alice Hoffman, 22, of Chicago, took place. He was sentenced by Chief Justice Harold G. Ward of criminal court.

Miss Hoffman testified that Kelliher attempted to rape her, but that her screams attracted a policeman before the attack was completed.

Fire Breaks Out In Ship at Jersey City

JERSEY CITY, N. J., June 25.—Police were notified today that fire had broken out aboard the S. S. Marine Flier docked at the American President Lines pier. Coast Guard fire boats were sent to the scene.

The first alarm was sounded at 11:10 a. m. (EDT) and another within 15 minutes. Police said ambulances were dispatched to the pier which is at the foot of 12th street, across the Hudson river from downtown Manhattan.

Police headquarters said clouds of smoke were rising from No. 2 hold.

New York City fireboats and the Coast Guard Cutter, Seagull, equipped to fight ship fires, moved to the scene. Two fire junks along side should be ready to make to move the ship from the dock.

Deluge of Glass Follows Marion Truck Accident

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, June 25.—Broken glass showered Route 23 north of Stratford Tuesday morning when a soft drink truck owned by the Barq and Vess Cola Bottling Co. of Marion and driven by Ross Morbit of 478 Bellefontaine avenue rounded a curve and spilled 50 cases of empty bottles on the highway, state highway patrolmen reported. Apparent cause of the accident was shifting of the load as the truck turned. Of the 50 cases dropped five cases of bottles remained unbroken.

Glass rained on an automobile approaching from the rear, flattening tires, breaking window and headlight glass and shattering about a bushel of broken glass on the interior of the auto. The driver, Mrs. Helen Washburn of Bexley, and three girls were uninjured.

Delaware county sheriff's deputies, the truck driver, patrolmen, several motorists and Stratford residents used brooms and shovels to clear the road, and a power sweeper from the state highway department finished the job.

Deputies Clifford Giltner and Paul Jacobs directed traffic until the road was cleared.

AUTO MAKER SEES HIGH FUTURE PAY

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Paul G. Hoffman, president of Studebaker Corp., told congress today that the income of most Americans can be doubled within 25 years by "wise action" to smooth out the national economy.

In a statement prepared for the joint congressional committee on the economic report, Hoffman asserted that "we can largely realize the age old dream of abolishing poverty."

The keynote in achieving this goal, Hoffman said, is the creation and maintenance of what he called an economic program of "dynamic stability" which reflects the notion that "violent booms or busts" are inevitable.

He contended that the "most vital function" of the government in the long-range economy he outlined "is to establish conditions under which private enterprise can operate most effectively."

Specifically, Hoffman said that among other things the government should:

1. Stamp out practices that restrict competition.
2. Break down barriers to creation and growth of small businesses.
3. Repudiate federal spending "for its own sake under any circumstances" and limit expenditures for needed public works so as to moderate booms and busts.
4. Give "full support" to the state department "in the battle in which it is now engaged to bring about a great reduction in the artificial barriers to trade between nations."
5. Cut taxes substantially "in the near future" and make further cuts later.
6. Extend unemployment compensation "as far as practicable" to all workers.

PRAYDA DAMPENS ECONOMIC PARLEY

LONDON, June 25.—Pravda, the Communist party organ in Russia, dashed cold water today on the warm, friendly feeling which has encompassed Europe since the Soviet Union accepted last Sunday a British-French invitation to talk about the Marshall aid-Europe plan.

With Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov reportedly scheduled to leave tomorrow for Paris, where the three-power talks will get under way Friday, Pravda said no self-respecting European nation could accept the Marshall proposals if acceptance meant American interference in the internal affairs of those nations.

Asks Investigation Of Rubenstein Case

WASHINGTON, June 25.—A broad congressional investigation of Serge Rubenstein, New York financier convicted of draft evasion, was asked yesterday by Rep. Buck (R-NY).

He introduced two resolutions, both of which would direct the state and justice departments to turn over to the House Judiciary committee their complete files on all investigations of Rubenstein's affairs, including "alleged expenditures for the purchase of influence" in Washington.

Courts Only Recourse Open to Rubenstein

CLEVELAND, June 25.—Legal action was taken today to collect any part of the $100,000 fine paid for the arrest of V. J. Rubenstein, charged with draft evasion, last night in Cleveland.

Charles E. Kelly, Cleveland Press court reporter, said a writ was issued to state an injunction which would prevent the government from collecting the $100,000 fine. The writ was issued by Judge John J. Kane of the federal court.

Kane said the government had no right to collect the fine until it had proved its case in court.

GREAT LAKES AREA CALLED WAR TARGET

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told congress today that if the United States has another war one of the first things the enemy will do is strike through the air at the industrial centers near the Great Lakes.

For that reason, the Army chief of staff said, it is vital to the security of this country that United States and Canadian armed forces be prepared to cooperate completely.

He declared emphatically, too, that the western hemisphere should organize now for defense.

Eisenhower testified before the house foreign affairs committee in support of legislation authorizing United States aid to standardize the arms of all American nations.

Last week, Secretary of State Marshall, former army chief of staff, told the house group he thought the proposed program could be carried out for $10,000,000 a year.

Taxes for operating purposes: County commissioners to sign contracts not exceeding $1,000 without competitive bidding. Counties or townships to use gasoline tax funds to build sidewalks in congested areas. Revision of health and accident insurance company laws to conform with federal legislation. Sale of fruits and vegetables by weight.

Farm Bureau President Speaks at Cedar Point

By The Associated Press

SANDUSKY, O., June 25.—Increased work for "constructive legislation" should be the goal of the American Farm Bureau federation, says its president, Edward A. O'Neil.

Addressing a midwest meeting of the organization at Cedar Point, O'Neil declared it would be tragic for agriculture to lose its legislative gains of the past 25 years.

R. E. Woodruff, president of the Association of American Railroads, appealed to the Farm Bureau employees from 12 midwestern states to join the railroads in opposing attempts to nationalize the American rail system.

It's simple. It's amazing how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unbecomingly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your drugist and ask for four ounces of Liquid Rennet Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. LIQUOR BOARD ENDS FREEZE ON PERMITS

The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., June 25.—The board today ended the "freeze" on issuance of permits to sell whisky for night clubs, resulting from a hearing June 11, will be effective Sept. 15.

Dombey, acting director of the board, said no applications had been accepted until Sept. 15, because of the war-time shortage of whisky and beer.

Dombey pointed out that end of the restrictions of the department on new permits would not mean opening the flood gates for new liquor selling places because in hundreds of cities, villages and townships the statutory quota of permits already is filled.

In 119 political subdivisions he said, the quota on all types is full. These include such cities as Cleveland, Dayton, Canton, Akron and Youngstown. Only night club permits still may be issued for Cincinnati and Toledo.

In 360 cities and towns no more permits will be issued, and in 121 no more night club licenses.

At the public hearing June 11 only two of more than 80 persons present opposed lifting the freeze.

Salvation Army Goes To Aid of GI and French Wife

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., June 25.—The Salvation Army provided temporary shelter Tuesday for a former GI, John Snediker of Akron, O., until he could find housekeeping rooms for his French wife, Janine Anseume, and their eight months old son Jon.

The Snedikers ran head-on into Columbus' housing shortage when they arrived here yesterday and for a time it appeared that the pretty 23-year-old French girl would have to set up housekeeping in her husband's war-traveler jeep.

But the Salvation Army offered to provide them a room for a week while they sought to place to live.

Snediker brought his family

John met Janine in Paris where she was a second lieutenant with the French Air Force and he was with the U. S. 431st amphibian engineers. They were married Jan. 2, 1945, and he brought her to his native city of Akron while he finished high school.

The jeep that carried the Snedikers and their belongings here yesterday was the same one John drove while with the Army in Europe.

Effect of New Labor Law On Security of Unions Explained

(This is the second of six stories outlining the main points of the new labor law.)

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 25—The government's new labor law permits the union shop—under certain conditions—but forbids the closed shop.

Those two shops, union and closed, have been prime methods for unions to maintain their security, which means keeping up their membership.

But the new law puts restrictions on three other kinds of union security: preferential hiring, maintenance of membership, and automatic dues checkoff.

All five types were permitted under the previous big labor law, the Wagner act, passed in 1935. The new law makes big changes in that.

Government experts say about 11,500,000 workers now are covered by contracts including one or more of those five types of security.

Law Affects All

The new law will, in time and in one way or another, affect all of them. What the new law does to the five types of union security is outlined here:

● CLOSED SHOP. Completely banned.

In a closed shop all workers must be union members even before they're hired. If they quit the union or are expelled, the boss has to fire them.

Closed shop contracts—in existence June 25 when the Taft-Hartley labor bill became law—can continue until they expire.

And, for 60 days after June 23, closed shop contracts can be signed or renewed for one year, but no longer.

After 60 days following June 23, the law forbids any new or renewed contracts for a closed shop.

● UNION SHOPS. Permitted under certain conditions.

In a union shop a worker doesn't have to join the union. If he joins, he must stay in or be fired. A new worker must join and stay in, or be fired.

This is how a union shop is permitted: If a majority of all the workers vote for it.

The new law on union shops doesn't apply to existing contracts unless they are renewed.

Within the 60 days after June 23, union shop contracts can be signed for a year.

Vote on Union Shop

But under the law union members, where there is a union shop, can vote on whether they want to knock it out.

In spite of the special permission for union shops under the new law, there can be no union shop at all in these states:

Those 13 states have outlawed, by state law, the union shop, closed shop, and any other arrangement that requires a person to be a union member to get a job.

The new federal law specifically lets the state laws have right of way on the union shop. Which means: where the state laws say no union shop, there's no union shop.

This is important. Unions have been attacking state laws on the ground that they conflict with federal law. They can't do this now.

But unions are attacking state laws on other grounds, too. They argue that a ban on closed shops is unconstitutional because it deprives people of liberty of contract without "due process" of law.

They plan to attack the new federal law ban on closed shops on the same grounds. So there are court fights ahead.

● PREFERENTIAL HIRING. Most lawyers agree the new law forbids preferential hiring contracts.

Under such a contract the employer agrees that when he needs a new employee he will hire a union member if one is available.

● MAINTENANCE OF MEMBERSHIP. The new law permits this—as in the case of the union shop—only if a majority of the workers covered by the contract approve.

Under this kind of contract workers don't have to join a union but, once they do, they must stay in or get fired.

● AUTOMATIC CHECKOFF OF UNION DUES.

Under this contract, a boss deducts union dues from a worker's pay and turns them over to the union, whether or not some individual workers want it done.

The new law forbids this automatic checkoff. It says deductions can be made only when an individual worker requests it.

The penalty for a boss who violates the law: a fine up to $10,000 and one year in jail.

No more automatic checkoff contracts can be made, starting June 23, when the labor bill became law.

Contracts in existence June 23 can continue until they expire but they cannot continue beyond July 1, 1948.

SAYS PROHIBITION IS ON WAY BACK

National Voice Editor Speaks in Marion.

"Prohibition is on its way back," was the statement made Tuesday night of Miss Ethel Hubler of Los Angeles, Calif., editor and publisher of the National Voice, known as America's oldest temperance weekly. She spoke in First Evangelical United Brethren church under sponsorship of the Marion County Ministerial association. She is making a tour throughout the country in the interest of her crusade for "a sober America." Rev. Garrison Roebuck, host pastor, presided.

She declared that the "wet interests" are more ready to believe the opening statement even than the "drys." As part of her message she urged that "it is not too late to support the Kapper bill," legislation which would curtail interstate advertising of liquor manufacturers.

Other statements of Miss Hubler concerning the need for curbing the general trend toward increased drinking included her personal reaction, "after exhaustive study" of the prohibition question. "It is my conviction," she declared, "that the liquor traffic is the greatest blot upon our civilization today. Furthermore, I am convinced that it could not continue to exist without the tacit consent of the church."

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Mildred Pickett near Claridon.

BIRTHDAY DINNER HELD

The quarterly birthday dinner of Loyal circle, Wayside Rose Rebekah Lodge No. 598, was held Friday noon in the home of Mrs. Addie Johnston, of 589 Davis street.

Guests were Joel Bolander, Mrs. Baldauf and daughter Patricia and Mrs. Park. Postponed because of July Fourth, the next regular meeting will be held July 18 in the home of Mrs. Oide Henney on Windsor street.

CLASS MEETS AT PARK

A potluck dinner at Lincoln park was held by the adult class of Lee Street Presbyterian church Friday night with 49 present. In recognition of a donation which the class made to Boys' Town, the class received a certificate from Father Flanagan, director, it was announced. Members voted to take charge of closing exercises of the Sunday school the last Sunday of each month. Next Sunday, Clifford George will direct the period. A white elephant sale was held. Guests were Rev. George L. Pake, who is in charge of services at the church, and Rev. Howard L. Oelwiler, pastor of First Presbyterian church. July 18, a class meeting will be held at the church.

F. A. Sparks Honored at End of 56-Year Railroad Career

Company officials and associates of Frank A. Sparks, veteran railroad employee and track supervisor with the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad Co., who will retire June 30 after nearly 60 years of railroading, joined for a dinner in his honor last night at the Eagles hall. Covers were placed for more than 100 officials and employees of the company with whom Mr. Sparks has been associated for the past 27 years of his railroad career.

H. H. Snouffer presided as toastmaster and informal talks were given by a number of the guests. Mr. Sparks was presented a miniature suit and hat, which he was told could be exchanged at a local clothing store for "one that would fit," a gift from his associates.

Honored also was Ira Pine, section foreman of Marion, who is retiring June 30. Mr. Pine, who was presented a casting rod and reel, received a 50-year service pin from the company in 1942. He followed in the footsteps of his father, who also was a section foreman here. The presentations were made by Alva Saunders, former track foreman here.

Started in 1891

Mr. Sparks began his railroad career in 1891 and his more than 50 years of service has been with the old Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, now the New York Central System, and the Chesapeake & Ohio, formerly the Hocking Valley Railroad Co.

Among last night's guests were C. M. Ryder, trainmaster, Wade Louks, assistant trainmaster, M. J. Hubbard, division engineer, William Martin, chief clerk to the division engineer, B. R. Gould, division superintendent, Fred Brown, former freight agent here, Mrs. Anne Randall, secretary to the division superintendent, Charles W. Butcher, track supervisor and Mrs. Matthews of Columbus and Fred Birnberg of Toledo, retired track supervisors, and road foreman and their wives from points between Postoria and Delaware. Talks were given by Mr. Gould, Mr. Snouffer, assistant trainmaster here, Mr. Ryder, Mr. Hubbard and a number of other guests, in which tribute was paid the record of the honor guest.

Mr. Sparks was among veteran employees of the company retiring this month who attended a dinner given in their honor last Wednesday at the Virginia Hotel in Columbus.

F. A. SPARKS

Back in 1891

Mr. Sparks has traveled thousands of miles and seen many changes in his more than half a century of railroading. Trackmen used the old "pick and shovel" method, loaded, unloaded and laid the rails "by hand," worked 10 hours a day for 11 cents an hour with no pay for overtime, and trains ran on a single track with the less important cargo "taking the siding" for the passenger trains and preferred freights when he began his career in 1891. Railroads were preparing "de luxe" service to the great World's Fair to be held in Chicago in 1893. Ohio's Benjamin Harrison was occupying the White House and Marion was fast becoming known as a railroad center.

He was 22 years old when he took his first job as a section laborer which was to lead to a long and successful record as a supervisor. Earlier he had been a brakeman for a year but a hand injury and some pressure brought by his mother, who thought railroading a dangerous job, changed his mind. And there was some thought that he might follow in the footsteps of an uncle and try sea-faring as jobs on the lakes paid good money and some of the boys in his home town of Andover were finding it most alluring.

His First Job

Mr. Sparks' first job was that of a section laborer on the Youngstown division with the old Lake Shore and Michigan Southern, now a part of the New York Central System. A part of a section man's job was "walking" the section, which was five miles, making a round trip every day and in winter when the weather was bad the men patrolled the track to make sure that the track was safe for the midnight express and other trains. The old link and pin coupler were in use, air brakes were unheard of, and passenger coaches were lighted with oil lamps and heated with stoves. Youngstown and Ashtabula harbor had lots of trains and the job of a section worker was a busy one.

Promotion to "gang" foreman came in 1898 and shortly after the turn of the century—1904—he was made general foreman of the "low grade" division of the system. With the growth of business more space was needed at Ashtabula Harbor and Mr. Sparks was soon promoted to general foreman to supervise a large force of "gandy dancers" in the construction of new docks and yards. This was in 1908. One year later he was transferred to the Chicago division of the old Lake Shore and in 1918 he left the railroad to roadmaster on the Norwalk division.

Supervised Yard Building

In 1913 Mr. Sparks was transferred to the Airline division, where he was placed in charge of building the new yards at Toledo and in 1918 he left the railroad to join the A. S. Hucker Contracting Co. and became superintendent of contracting on the Hocking Valley. His work took him to Walbridge, Carey, Marion and Owens Station.

Two years later, Jan. 1, 1920, Mr. Sparks was made supervisor of track at Walbridge, by the Hocking Valley railroad, now the Chesapeake & Ohio. He transferred to Marion the following year and had been located here for more than a quarter of a century. His job has been to oversee the maintenance of tracks between Delaware and Postoria.

Good Enough Reason

There is no particular reason why Mr. Sparks chose railroading as a career—he just liked railroading. He has met hundreds of people from hoboes to top railroad officials—the hoboes were for the most part not troublesome and just about always had an interesting story to tell, and the officials are as fine a group of men as you would want to meet, in his estimation.

It was an important occasion

Discuss Plans For Youth Club

Legion Proposal To Be Considered Again at Meeting Friday.

A proposal to establish a club for boys and girls ranging in age from 18 to 21, to be sponsored by Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162, American Legion, was discussed at a meeting of the post Tuesday night in the Legion Dugout.

No definite plans have been made for the club but it has been widely discussed among members of the Legion and boys and girls who would be eligible for membership. On motion from a member of the Legion, the executive committee of the post was authorized to meet with a group of the young people to work out plans. The meeting has been set for Friday at 8:15 p. m. in the American Legion 162 Club rooms at 123 1/2 East Center street.

The recreation center will be operated, according to plans, on a restricted membership basis with only those between the ages of 18 and 21 eligible. However, they will be permitted to remain in the club after becoming 21 if they have joined previous to that time. The group will elect officers and a board of directors, and will be asked to meet requirements set up by the Legion.

Reports by post members who attended the district convention last Sunday at Westerville were given by Newton Cunningham, Lowell Ralston, John H. Moore, J. A. Dripps, Francis Field, Craig Rogers and Earl L. West. Mr. West, commander, presented D. J. MacDonald, who is the new district vice commander-elect for 1948. As vice commander of the district, he will be co-chairman of membership procurement.

A picture of battle action on the island of New Britain by the American forces was shown by S/Sgt. Charles L. Boulware and S/Sgt. Loren E. Brandon of the local Army recruiting office.

Announcement was made that the local junior baseball team has been officially entered in the league, and that the team will play a game Saturday afternoon at 2:30 in Delaware with a Delaware team.

A period of silence in honor of war dead closed the meeting.

ANNUAL CIRCLE DINNER

Installation of newly elected officers of the Circle of Light, King's Daughters, was held following the annual dinner recently at Ringer's Inn marking the close of the present season.

Taking office for the coming year were the following: Mrs. Doris Murphy, leader; Mrs. Mabel Ush, assistant leader; Mrs. Louise Fogle, secretary; Mrs. Genevieve Hammond, assistant secretary; Mrs. Mabel Williams, treasurer; Mrs. Gertrude Glover, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Mildred Brooks, corresponding secretary. Mrs. Murphy appointed her committee members and chairmen following the installation.

CIRCLE PICNIC MEETING

Circle No. 7 of First Presbyterian church closed its year Thursday with a noonday picnic at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Watrous near Delaware. Mrs. R. L. Butterworth presided for business and opened the meeting with prayer. Mrs. Harry Evans led devotions and read several verses of Scripture and a poem. Guests included Mrs. Gertrude Edmondson of South, Bridge, Mass., and Mrs. Oscar Richards of Deshler, O. The circle's new season will open in September.

WASHINGTON, June 25—Secretary of the Navy Forrestal today confirmed plans to furnish South American nations with modern U. S. warships as part of a western hemisphere policy of cooperation for mutual security.

"It is the intention of the navy department to substitute newer U. S. naval vessels for the obsolete types of our neighbors," Forrestal said. "This substitution is proposed on an approximately equal tonnage basis."

Battle Today On Dillon Dam

Both Sides in Ohio Controversy Carry Fight to House Committee.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Both sides in the dispute over Dillon dam, near Zanesville, O., took their cases to a house public works sub-committee today.

The hearing was called by Chairman Wilson (R-Iowa) on a bill by Rep. McGrover (R-Ohio) which would cancel authority for construction of the dam. The project bears congressional approval as part of the Ohio valley flood control program.

The legislation is opposed by Rep. Griffiths (R-Ohio) who contends that the project is a necessary segment of the Muskingum flood control and conservancy system. He disputed McGrover's argument that the ultimate cost would range from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

BY ADELE GARRISON

"WHO could possibly be jealous of darling Uncle Dicky having luncheon with me?" Mary asked.

Then her eyes shadowed.

"Oh, of course! If Noel should know about it, he would have a right to feel left out," she said.

"But he won't be upset for luncheon; he never is. Auntie Midge, do you think I ought to have luncheon with Noel first, before anybody else?"

"Let me answer that question, please!" Katharine said quickly. "Look here, Mary, I'm responsible for you, and I'm not considering the feelings or well-being of anybody else on this green earth. The second I think it will be advisable for you to have a meal with your husband, I'll drag him here no matter where he happens to be at the moment. But just now, you're both too emotional, too ecstatic at being together. Your uncle Dicky, at present, is the one person who can be counted on to make you laugh and listen to his nonsense. He has a distinct therapeutic value."

"You make him sound like a pill," Mary pouted, but her eyes were laughing.

"That's just what he is!" Katharine retorted. "Don't hit me, Madge! I don't mean that the way it sounds. But your uncle is a nice bread pill, and I'm sure he will be exceedingly good for you. Now go back to your toilette, and try to be quiet until luncheon time. I'll set up a table here, and get everything ready for the party."

Will Get Busy

"And I'll go back to the sitting room, and get busy there," I told them, knowing full well the situation with which I should have to cope.

And when Dicky finally came back, after almost half an hour's absence, I did, indeed, find the "coping" difficult.

"I'm glad you're back," I told him. "Katharine has promised Mary that you will have your breakfast with her at the same time that she has luncheon. You won't mind waiting for breakfast a few minutes, will you?"

"Don't fix me with that glittering eye!" he begged absently. "You know I don't get any lollipops out of lying to you. So I'll 'fess up. I stopped on my way back and threw some bacon and eggs and coffee into myself. I'm crammed. But, for Mary, I'll go out and invite the old Romans at their feast. When is this party scheduled?"

"About ten minutes from now," I told him, remorselessly grinning at his groan. "But go into your bedroom and keep quiet. I'll pretend you've telephoned and are being delayed. Katharine was pushing the luncheon ahead anyway. How soon can you eat again?"

Like the Boys

"You know me," he said. "I'm like Junior and Roderick. Give me my second wind, and I can tackle another meal at any time. In an hour or less, if necessary, I'll be ready to tie on the feed bag with grace and aplomb."

"Very well," I said. "I'll take over. But get out of sight before I open the door."

"I'm already invisible," he said, going out of the door which leads to his bedroom, and I went back into my bedroom where Mary was quartered.

"Uncle Dicky just telephoned that he would be delayed," I said, and Mary's mouth curved downward in disappointment.

"Oh, dear! I do hope that doesn't

Katharine asked practically. "An hour or less," I said. "Will that be too long for Mary to wait?"

"No, indeed," Katharine answered. "I was pushing the luncheon ahead for Dicky's sake."

"Then," I said mustily, "I think I'll cut Dicky in on our surprise luncheon, make it brunch for him, instead of his usual breakfast. The surprise is something he likes very much anyway."

"That will be wonderful," Mary said, and I was relieved that she had no suspicion of the truth.

"Wonderful, indeed," Katharine said, but her eyes held thoughtful skepticism.

White Shrine Marks 30th Anniversary

Thirtieth anniversary of the founding of Marion Shrine No. 13, White Shrine of Jerusalem, was observed Monday night at the Masonic temple, with charter members and past officers honored. The shrine here was instituted in June 1917, with the help of Naomi Chapter No. 10 of Mansfield. Serving were Mrs. Mary Williamson, Mrs. Eve Hunter, Mrs. Goldie Miller and Mrs. Laura Morral. This closed shrine meetings until Sept. 8 when a picnic supper and meeting will be held at the Masonic temple.
